

SEASON CHANGE

Nine Prophetic Words for Your New Season

*Given by Pastor John A. Kilpatrick — April 7, 2013

I SPEAK PROPHETICALLY on April 7, 2013...

I speak prophetically that you have already emerged from your spiritual drought. You have gained weight in your valley. Now God is arranging you to take territory.

1.
You will feel a mighty wind at your back, and you will not bend and bow to what you once yielded to. A new season has now come to pass in your life. The old is part of your yesterday, not your tomorrow. I declare over you that addiction is broken. It is now a thing of the past—including medication, painkillers, drugs and alcohol. The Lord says, “That season has now passed.”

2.
The limbs of your life have felt brittle and lifeless. Now as of this minute while I am prophesying, sap is rising in you. You feel a rising up. Faith is rising. The sun is rising. The fog is thinning. Just yesterday you couldn't see, but all of a sudden you now have your bearings; and you can see daylight again. Everything in the fog looked ominous and threatening; but you are beginning forward movement again. You are moving toward the sun. Now the Son of God is beginning to dissipate that thick fog, and things will not be scary anymore.

3.
Someone just went through one of the worst places they have ever gone through. It is losing its grip that it has had for five years. As a matter-of-fact, it will be completely gone by July of this year.

4.
I am hearing the word beget, which means to bring into existence. A husband and wife will beget a child. This birth has long been anticipated. Your womb appeared to be withered and dried up as the pear tree has been in the winter; but God has touched your reproductive system, and it will produce what God desires. You will carry this precious cargo to full birth. As a matter-of-fact, there is one lady who is going to have a son, and there is another lady who is going to have twins.

5.
You have just come from a shedding season. You involuntarily shed more than one relationship that grieved you deeply. It devastated you. It literally set you back on your heels. You cried until you couldn't cry anymore. You were blindsided, and it was all unprovoked. Just as Demas forsook Paul, you have also experienced a forsaking. That forsaking was leaves turning loose from one season of your life. For a period of time you looked done in, hopeless and friendless; but there's already been a season change. Where those leaves could not stay attached, new ones are forming and sap is rising. What was once rigid is now bending, pliable and supple. What was brown is now turning green. New is all around you. Holy Spirit says, “Look around, I have given new things all around you, and I didn't even move you; but I went into your environment, and behold I am making all things new.” As a matter-of-fact, this season is already budding forth new relationships. Your limbs are filled with little knots (buds) of possibilities.

6.

I see someone with so many blossoms that the Lord has to thin them out. You are about to receive so many great blessings that the Lord says, "There will not be room enough in your present circumstances for you to contain everything I am about to give you." There would be so much fruit that your limbs would break. I see someone with so many blossoms that they must be thinned out because you don't have enough floor space to accommodate everything that is in motion for you. God is loading you down with long awaited blessings. The Lord says, "This is your year! This is not your month! This is not your quarter! This is your year!" Holy Spirit says, "This is going to be a year unlike any other year my people have ever experienced. It is going to be full. It is going to come at you from all directions for months. It is absolutely your time. It is your season."

7.

A misunderstanding that has brought great sorrow to your family is going to be resolved within a matter of days. It separated your family. It has ruined the last several holidays. It has affected marriages. It has even affected the health of some of your elderly relatives. Great destruction and heartbreak has come to your extended family. Satan has brought great confusion to this family that was once very happy, but Holy Spirit is going to bring supernatural revelation of exactly all that caused this great division. He is going to remove the blinders from the eyes of the family so they can see the truth. No one will be excommunicated in the family because of this, but great reconciliation will come. Tears will flow. Lost time will be made up. A trip will be planned almost immediately where everyone can get together and have a good time. This will be only a distant memory by Mother's Day.

8.

An opportunity you thought was lost forever will miraculously reappear. This time, you will be so glad to see him that you will seize him and never let him go again. It will truly be a situation where opportunity knocks twice for you young lady. It truly will knock twice for you.

9.

Someone is going to be reunited with their biological family after being separated all of your life. It was a sinister plot of Satan to isolate you, but the blood of the family called out to you and will prevail. You will be reunited with your biological family. There will be challenges. There will be setbacks, but the Lord says this will bring you great peace when it comes to pass. It will be like Moses finally realizing who his Hebrew mother really was. You will be a staunch defender of your people. Many mysteries will be unraveled regarding this. It is right at the door says the Lord.
